

Session Title

Basic Labor Relations for Practitioners Part I (OPM)

Session Date

Thursday, April 16, 2015 • 10:00 - 10:50 am EST

Session Objective

At the end of this session, attendees will be able to:

- Explain why unions exist in the Federal Government
- Determine who in their agency is included or excluded from a collective-bargaining unit
- Understand the rights provided to agencies, union, and employees, under the Federal Service Labor-Management Relations Statute
- Recognize conduct that could violate the Statute and constitute an unfair labor practice

Presenter

Katherine Hannah – Katherine.Hannah@opm.gov

Presenter Biography

Katherine Hannah works at OPM, where she provides advice and assistance on a diverse range of labor relations topics. She has over 10 years of experience in the field of labor relations and holds a master's degree in Industrial and Labor Relations.