

Session Title

Best and Current Practices of Employee Engagement (OPM)

Session Date

Thursday, April 16, 2015 • 10:00 - 10:50 am EST

Session Objective

At the end of this session, attendees will be able to:

- Define leadership in their own words
- Discredit motivational myths
- Apply a simple talent management formulae
- List five examples of both hard and soft workplace interference that demotivates
- List six 1:1 questions that engage and motivate
- List five best practices related to “when employees do best”

Presenter

Joe Schumacher, Center for Leadership, Denver – Joe.Schumacher@opm.gov

Presenter Biography

Joe is a Program Director at OPM’s Center for Leadership Development in Denver where he designs and develops leadership workshops. He is a former Fire Chief, University Professor, Director of E9-1-1 Operations and is a US Army vet. He often speaks on leadership at national conventions and has over fifty published articles on leadership and administrative management. His most recent publication is entitled ‘Resuscitating a Troubled Workplace’ in Federal Manager Magazine.